To whom it may concern:

KBT Contracting is nearing completion on the construction of a large concrete masonry unit (CMU) wall around our fuel tanks. Throughout the course of the project, KBT has met major milestone dates, and completed the work according to specifications. Additionally, KBT's employees have carried themselves in a professional manner.

Early in the project, contaminated soils were found in significantly greater quantities than originally anticipated. KBT worked with us to agree on a level of compensation that was fair to all parties. Their willingness to negotiate the additional work allowed us to complete the project without further delays and costs which would have been incurred if we had to re-bid the project.

Sincerely,
